July 2010

THE BULLETIN

Well, it's hot & sunny here in Portugal and for those of you in colder climes who haven't decided where to holiday yet this year, why not try one of the riding centres out here?

This edition of the bulletin is a little late due to my several recent visits back to the UK. For those of you who know her, my mother is now back at home recovering well from her broken leg. Thank you to all of you who have asked after her.

 Email: pru@sapo.pt

This month I would like to draw your attention to page 12 of this bulletin as there are 3 dogs, all in private ownership, but whose owners for various reasons need to find alternative homes for one of their dogs.

Please help if you can as these are all well-adjusted and well cared-for animals that would make excellent pets in the right homes.

The next edition of Equus Bulletin will be out at the end of August, so if you want anything advertised please send to me.

A HORSES' VIEW OF THE WORLD

Do you ever wonder what your horse is actually thinking?

How often have you ever wondered if you are on the same page or even talking the same language? Take a look at some of the definitions from the horse's dictionary and compare them to yours.

Arena: Place where humans can take the fun out of forward motion.

Bit: Means by which a rider's every motion is transmitted to the sensitive tissues of the mouth.

Bucking: counter-irritant.

Crossties: Gymnastic apparatus.

Dressage: Process by which some riders can eventually be taught to respect the bit.

Fence: Barrier that protects good grazing.

Grain: Sole virtue of domestication.

Hitching rail: Means by which to test one's strength.

Horse trailer: Mobile cave bear den.

Hotwalker: The lesser of two evils.

Jump: An opportunity for self-expression.

Latch: Type of puzzle.

Lungeing: Procedure for keeping a prospective rider at bay.

Owner: Human assigned responsibility for one's feeding.

Rider: Owner overstepping its bounds.

Farrier: Disposable surrogate owner; useful for acting out aggression without compromising food supply.

Trainer: Owner with mob connections.

Veterinarian: Flightless albino vulture

Honey

I am having to find a new home for one of my dogs, I have had big problems between 2 of my bitches and have decided to re-home Honey, for 2 reasons, she is the most loving dog and can be handled and is good with children, faultless, but she and Puppyroo have become very jealous of each other, only when I am there, and it has resulted in 2 vicious dog fights, with both dogs being quite badly injured.

Honey is the more mellow of the two but the reason I have chosen to re-home her is because I have had Puppyroo from a baby and can't part with her. Honey would thrive in a home with either Dogs, not bitches, or as a lone dog as she is VERY loving and craves cuddles.

Bamboo

Bamboo is looking for a new home. She is 1 year old, female Portuguese cross breed. Very friendly with people and other dogs, absolutely charming, lively with loads of energy. She needs a lot of attention, is always curious and loves long walks and play time. She needs some more training but actually listens quite well already. She grew up with us since she was 3 weeks old, together with our other dogs. A family with kids and a spacious home/garden would be perfect for her.

Milo

I know how hard it is to find good homes for all the dogs in the Algarve who desperately need them... However, if any of you can help here, or know of anyone who might be able to I would be so grateful.

Milo is my beautiful 3 year old husky cross, I have had him since he was four months old. He is quiet, castrated, very handsome! good with children (although he will chase cats), and I am desperately trying to find him a good home. My older male dog has suddenly decided to attack him every time he sees him. I have to have them separated at all times and recently received a bad bite trying to split them up.

Milo likes to be around other dogs and would make a great companion for a female dog. He is used to living outside, having a husky coat and of course would like lots of space to roam around. It will break my heart to let him go as he is such a great dog- but I'm finding it difficult to cope with the current situation between the boys... I have 4 dogs altogether.

Can anyone help?
